

A Homeowner's Guide to Stormwater Management

An afternoon workshop featuring ways to incorporate stormwater management at your home

Tuesday, February 23

1:00 p.m. – 3:00 p.m. Westmoreland Conservation District,
Donohoe Center, Donohoe Road, Greensburg

Learn how to “read” the unique physical features of your property...uncover possible causes of water problems, including damp basements and water-ponding...and how to install creative and attractive solutions, from rain gardens to green roofs.

Learn the how and why of using native plants.

Participants will receive a voucher for a ready-to-install rain barrel to be picked up on or after March 27 at Donohoe Center.

Presenters:

Dana Rizzo, water quality educator, Penn State Cooperative Extension in Westmoreland County

Kathryn Hamilton, landscape architect/stormwater technician, Westmoreland Conservation District

Cost: $35, workshop and voucher for rain barrel; $10, workshop only
